

State Democrats Hear Tennessee Lash Eisenhower

Gov. Frank Clement Is Speaker At Springfield Jackson Day Dinner; Calls Ike a Failure

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., (AP)—Missouri Democrats—some 2,000 of them—thronged to their annual Jackson Day dinner and heard Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee call the national administration a "fantastic political Disneyland."

Clement said President Eisenhower himself has been "a dismal failure as president."

The Tennesseean was principal speaker at the dinner Saturday night. He said the key issue in the 1956 campaign would be "BBG—big business government."

Both Missouri senators—Stuart Symington and Thomas C. Hennings—were on hand. Symington spoke briefly. Gov. Phil M. Donnelly was introduced but did not speak.

Hennings discussed the farm situation in his address, asserting:

"When you hear Republican orators talk about peace and prosperity, remember those great agricultural programs that for years guaranteed our farmers real parity—the kind of economic equality from which they have fallen so tragically during the recent years of Republican government by and for big business."

Sedalia and Pettis County democrats were well represented at the annual Andrew Jackson Dinner held at Springfield, Mo., Saturday night. The affair which was started 33 years ago had its largest gathering of democratic politicians, workers and others in its history.

A delegation of more than 45 from Sedalia and the county was in attendance at the meeting. Among those present were Mayor Julian H. Bagby; City Chairman Walter Cramer; City Councilmen Earl Paxton, Harry Moore, Woodrow Garrison, R. N. Snavely, Dr. Ira White, James Shaw, Aubrey Case and C. L. Kelley; Paul Alpert, city collector; James Dury, city attorney; William F. Brown, city counselor; Chief of Police Edgar Edwards and Mrs. Edwards; and Charles Simon, city sanitary officer.

Jerry Trotter, county assessor, and Mrs. Trotter; Virgil Houchen, county treasurer; Bryan H. How circuit clerk; Judge Earl Birdsong, of the county court; Harold Barick, prosecuting attorney; Malachi O'Brien, county recorder of deeds; Raymond Wilder, county collector.

W. H. Ritzenthaler, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, and Mrs. Ritzenthaler; Robert Kahn, superintendent of concessions of the fair, and Mrs. Kahn; Jesse Paul; Joe Williams; Miss Ruth Wingate, of the adjutant general's office in Jefferson City; Mrs. John Harris; Emmett Sullivan; Royal Cowger; Dr. M. E. Gouge, dairy inspector of Sedalia.

State Representative Milt Overstreet and Mrs. Overstreet; Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton; W. C. Askew; Al Arnsen, collector of revenue of Missouri; M. C. Ervin and Leonard Foster.

Gov. Frank Clement, of Tennessee, was the principal speaker of the evening program, being introduced by U. S. Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr.

Fire at 8:52 a.m. Monday, did slight damage to the roof of the home of Miss Lydia Burris, 1420 South Vermont.

Sparks from a burning flue set fire to the dry shingles destroying several before fire companies arrived.

Sunday four runs were made by the companies starting at 9:44 a.m. at the residence of Roy Scarbrough, 1715 East Fourth, where an overheated oven had started a fire.

Damage to contents was estimated at $50 and to the residence $350.

Children playing with matches were responsible for a slight fire at 2:35 p.m. at the residence of Theodora Christian, 106 East Jefferson.

Burning trash set fire to some old tires in back of the Arbo Tire Co., 218 East Second at 2:45 p.m. No damage resulted.

A defective flue was given as the cause for a fire at the residence of T. E. Butler, 612 North Ohio, at 5:55 p.m. Damage to the residence was estimated at $75.

Catholics Are Asked To Pray for Rain

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Roman Catholics of the St. Joseph diocese have been asked to pray for rain.

Bishop John P. Cody asked Catholics "to implore divine assistance in this critical need for rain."

Besides the usual prayers said after each mass for the conversion of Russia, the Litany of the Blessed Virgin with the prayer for rain are to be recited by priests and congregations.

Brookfield Man Is President of Central Missouri Ball League

BOONVILLE (AP)—Vic Meinert, Brookfield, was elected to his eleventh consecutive term as president of the Central Missouri Ball Johnson Baseball League as that organization met here yesterday.

Jim Hampton, Moberly, starting his tenth season as a Ban Johnson manager, was elected vice president, while Charles Persinger, Boonville, and Van S. Reed, Marshall, were elected secretary and treasurer.

Sedalia was the only 1955 member team not represented at the meeting and some doubts were expressed that Sedalia would reenter the league this season.

Teams represented here were Boonville, Brookfield, Columbia, Jefferson City, Mexico, Marshall and Moberly.

More Floods Are Expected In California

Cities Evacuated After Second Big Storm in a Month

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A mighty torrent rolled down the Feather River in northern California today, threatening the "green" new levee hastily erected at Shanghai Bend after the holiday floods at Yuba City.

Army engineers said the levee was "likely to fail" because it was thrown up with mud and other readily available materials.

The region's second big rain-storm in less than a month ended last night with clearing skies, but it left raging torrents cascading down the Feather and Yuba River systems to converge on Yuba City, still sodden from Christmas floods that took 33 lives there. The state's total was 62 deaths with an estimated property loss of half a billion dollars. Only two deaths were reported in the latest storm.

Civilian defense evacuated more than 700 persons from parts of Olivehurst and Arboga yesterday when the Bear River backed up seven miles south of Marysville, where it runs into the Feather from the east.

Officials at Yuba City decided against evacuating the remaining residents of that city, at least until they learned the levee's fate. Saturday night they evacuated the southern part of the city and some threatened sections of Sutter County. That order affected an estimated 1,500 persons.

Civilians stopped working on the Shanghai Bend levee last night and 310 men from Beale Air Force Base were put on a patrol from Marysville to the Bear River. The levee was built around the gap through which water poured Christmas Eve to flood the town.

Mother of Cance Pool Dies in Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Mrs. Mary Belle Pool died yesterday, 21 days after the death of her son, Cance A. Pool.

Mrs. Pool would have been 92 years old in April. She was the widow of J. Kelly Pool, editor of Jefferson City newspapers for many years. Her son, Cance, was secretary to Gov. Phil M. Donnelly at the time of his death Christmas Day.

Survivors include two sons, John T. Pool of San Francisco and Roscoe C. Pool of Topeka, Kan.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow at 2 p.m.

President Sends Balanced Budget And Asks More Federal Spending

Ike Says Cost Of Farm Plan Would Be Less

New Program Would Dispose of Surplus And Cut Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Congress today his administration's new farm program, including a soil bank designed to cut production and dispose of surpluses, will cost less than is being spent this year.

The budget message which Eisenhower sent to Congress said that on the assumption the new proposals are enacted, expenditures for agriculture and agricultural resources during the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be $3,364,000,000.

Current year spending is estimated at 12 million dollars more, or $3,376,000,000. The peak farm outlay under the present administration was $4,411,000,000 in the fiscal year which ended last June 30.

The projected new spending is merely an estimate, of course. If it should be exceeded by actual outlays, the administration would ask Congress later for more money.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson told the Senate Agriculture Committee last week he was not ready to supply dollars-and-cents details on the soil bank program.

The administration's new farm aid proposals would boost direct payments or subsidies to farmers by perhaps three quarters of a billion dollars. However, this outlay would be partially offset by a decrease in outlays for farm surpluses.

The new program envisions the retirement of upwards of 40 million acres of land from production of cash crops. It is designed to cut production and lessen the need for price support loans and government purchases of surplus commodities.

Eisenhower said the agriculture expenditures would provide for continued emphasis on research and educational activities, on soil and water conservation and on an enlarged program to help low-income farmers.

He estimated that stabilizing farm prices and incomes in the new year would cost $1,591,000,000 compared with $2,076,000,000 this year.

This decline in price support spending would be offset, he said, by the proposed expenditure of 450 million dollars on new programs—including payments to farmers for taking crop land out of production and for a stepped-up program to move more surplus milk into consumption in school food programs.

Damaged By Fire

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Maple Avenue Methodist Church was badly damaged yesterday by a five-alarm fire which gutted a two-story office wing of the building and caused extensive damage to the church.

Fire Chief Hugh Lyon estimated the damage at $50,000 to the 60-year-old gray stone structure and $5,000 to its contents.

The walls of the church itself were left standing but plaster on the church ceiling cracked off down to the timbers and water flooded the basement.

Military Funds Increased—Budget for Armed Forces Adjusted to New Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—A military budget of more than 35½ billion dollars was presented to Congress today with President Eisenhower's assurance that it is adjusted to "the increasing availability of new weapons of unprecedented strategic and tactical importance."

Eisenhower said the $35,547,000,000 proposed for the bookkeeping year beginning next July 1 would be about 972 million dollars more than expected spending for the current year.

Spending for guided missiles, he said, "will be the highest in our history" at more than 1½ billion dollars, up one third over the present year. This does not include atomic weapons. For security reasons, budgets never spell out nuclear weapons spending.

Improved Highway System Requested in The Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to provide for "a greatly improved highway system" without unbalancing the federal budget.

His proposed budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 provides no money to finance the plan to build a 40,000-mile network of superhighways which he proposed over a year ago.

At the same time, however, he said, "I am confident that the expanded program can be soundly financed so as not to create budget deficits."

Interested officials have said there are only three ways to finance such a plan: (1) with money from general tax revenues; (2)

through a bond issue; and (3)

through an increase in gasoline and other highway users taxes.

In calling for a budget balance, Eisenhower ruled out the first alternative. He suggested a bonding plan to Congress last year, but both the House and Senate voted it down. Eisenhower reportedly will not press for it this year.

That would seem to leave only the third choice.

The only specific highway figures set forth in Eisenhower's message today called for $97½ millions in new money to pay for the federal aid highway program already authorized by Congress.

Two Cousins Escape Serious Injuries

HENNESSEY, Okla. (AP)—Two teen-age cousins narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday in a hunting accident near Bison, Okla.

Leroy Fuksa, 15, said he was holding the barrel of a 22-caliber rifle and poking at some brush with the stock of the gun when it discharged. The bullet struck Bob Fuksa, 14, in the right hand below the little finger, then hit Leroy on the left wrist, cutting his watchband in two and lodging in his forearm. Both boys were treated at a doctor's office and released.

He Says Expenditures Should Amount to Nearly 66 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower sent to Congress today balanced budgets for this year and next while urging higher federal spending he said would total almost 66 billion dollars in the coming fiscal year.

He said the government could stay in the black in the next 18 months by "slim" margins only if Congress gives him "the utmost cooperation" in holding down spending and awaiting a prudent time for tax cuts.

As long as booming prosperity continues, Eisenhower said, Congress should put at least some reduction of the national debt ahead of tax slashing.

His new spending blueprint allowed for some debt reduction, but not for tax cuts. He reiterated that Congress should act to keep corporate and excise taxes at their present levels, rather than allow them to drop as scheduled on April 1 to the levels in effect before the Korean War.

For fiscal 1957, which begins next July 1, Eisenhower proposed that Uncle Sam spend $65,965,000,000. He estimated that federal income in that 12-month period would be $66,300,000,000. If both predictions are achieved, the government will wind up the fiscal year with a surplus of 435 million.

In other main facets of his budget message Eisenhower:

1. Estimated that spending this year will total $64,270,000,000, and that outlays in the next bookkeeping year will top that by $1,565,000,000. It was the first time Eisenhower had pointed spending upward.

2. Predicted that revenues next year will be $1,900,000,000 higher than this year's, resulting in a federal surplus this year of 230 million.

3. Proposed to cut the federal debt by 74 million by June 30 to $274,300,000,000 and by the following June 30 to $273,800,000,000.

4. Called for new appropriations of $66,291,000,000—some 426 million higher than projected spending and 444 billion higher than appropriations in the current year. This indicated that federal spending may be trending upward for several years.

While he cautioned against any quick tax cut, Eisenhower's budget seemed to leave a loophole which might justify one under his guidelines.

The budget appeared to have underestimated revenues for the second successive year. A year ago Eisenhower forecast revenues of 60 billion dollars for this year—some 4½ billions less than his new revised estimate.

His estimate for the coming fiscal year forecast an increase of about 1½ billion dollars in individual tax returns. But his estimate for corporation tax returns was unchanged.

Corporation profits have been climbing rapidly. This appeared to leave considerable room for improvement of revenue estimates.

Eisenhower earmarked 903 million dollars, or almost two-thirds of the increased spending he proposed.

Game of Russian Roulette Proves Fatal

PRICE, Utah (AP)—Joseph C. Clarius, 16, wanted to prove he wasn't afraid.

Sheriff Albert Passie says three friends of Clarius told him the youth suggested a game of Russian roulette yesterday. He took his empty, 22-caliber revolver and showed them how to play.

Then, to show he wasn't afraid, he put a single bullet in the gun's cylinder, pointed the weapon at his head and pulled the trigger. Nothing happened. He did it again. Again nothing happened.

Next time, however, the gun fired, sending a bullet into his brain. He died three hours later in a hospital.

In Critical Condition After Being Beaten

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., (AP)—A 30-year-old woman was in a critical condition today from exposure to near zero temperatures after she had been beaten by two men she had stopped to help.

Deputy sheriffs said they had not been able to obtain a complete story from the victim, Mrs. Wanda Garland, believed to have wandered about barefoot for possibly 6 or 7 hours while in a dazed condition.

Officers said Mrs. Garland told them she was returning to her home late yesterday when she saw two men in a car. She said she stopped to inquire if they needed help, whereupon the men forced their way into her car. She said she was slapped and beaten and then put out of the car.

Eisenhower Wants More Foreign Aid

Amount Requested Is Almost Double Last Year's Sum

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today a need to supply modern weapons to North Atlantic allies and to give increased aid to the Middle and Far East requires a doubling of new foreign aid money.

As had been officially predicted, he asked Congress to vote new foreign aid appropriations for the bookkeeping year starting July 1 of $4,860,000,000—almost double the $2,700,000,000 approved last year. A number of Congress members of both parties have said the request will be sharply cut.

Also as predicted, he sought an increase for the U.S. Information Service—135 million dollars as compared with 87 millions voted this year.

Something of a surprise was his request for an appropriation of 239 million dollars for the State Department, an increase of 89 million dollars over the present year.

"The Department of State," Eisenhower said in his budget message to Congress, "is not now adequately equipped with either the staff or facilities which are required if it is to provide the timely, informed and coordinated policy guidance which is vital to the success of our total international effort."

He said one reason for his asking $4,860,000 in new foreign aid funds is a need to supply jet aircraft, vessels and electronics systems to NATO allies in Europe.

He disclosed that more than one billion dollars of the money to be spent in the new fiscal year "will be concentrated in Korea, Pakistan, Taiwan (Formosa) and Turkey."

These countries are anchors in the network of alliances which the United States has been trying to strengthen as a counter to Russian and Red Chinese power in Asia and the Middle East.

Former Beauty Queen Married on Thursday

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—A beauty queen and her bridegroom, who last week captured a man charged with twice raping her, were honeymooning today after eloping to Las Vegas, Nev.

Blonde Mrs. Lloyd Brett, Miss California in last year's Miss Universe contest, and her husband, both of nearby Garden Grove, obtained the license last Thursday night. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brett, disclosed Saturday that the couple was married Thursday and returned Saturday to Anaheim. The bride is 19 and the bridegroom 24. They have remained in seclusion since.

Sheriff's deputies said that Jack J. Walker, 25, a married upholsterer whose wife is expecting a second child, admitted raping the beauty, the former Donna Schurr, last March and again last Tuesday. To newsmen he repudiated the admission.

Church Feud Brings Open Competition

NEW YORK (AP)—A long-standing church feud brought two clergymen into open competition yesterday before the altar of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn.

One of the clergymen was the Rev. William Howard Melish, acting rector of the church for seven years and recently removed from that job by a vote of the vestry.

Disregarding advice from his bishop and the vestry's efforts to lock him out of the church, the Rev. Mr. Melish was determined to conduct Sunday services as usual.

His rival at the altar was the Rev. Robert Thomas, appointed by the bishop of Long Island to conduct services at the church until a newly nominated rector has been installed.

The Rev. Mr. Melish had already started the early morning communion service, slightly ahead of schedule, when the Rev. Mr. Thomas arrived. The two clergymen, officiating at separate altars, conducted separate services for two small groups of parishioners.

At the 11 o'clock service the two ministers encountered one another before the main altar. Both men read opening portions of the service. After several minutes, the Rev. Mr. Thomas was heard saying, "You're out of order, Mr. Melish."

Confusion threatened when the two ministers announced different psalms to be read alternately by clergymen and congregation.

At this point the Rev. Mr. Thomas announced, "I refuse to make a mockery of this church and religion in general," and strode down the aisle. About 50 persons from the congregation of approximately 250 followed him out of the church.

Each Missouri Resident Owes $400 to Gov't

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Each of Missouri's four million residents will owe an average of $400 in federal taxes to pay the bill for President Eisenhower's new budget, announced today.

The State Public Expenditure Survey reported that Missouri's share of the $65.9 billion budget would be $1.6 billion or 2 1/2 per cent of the total.

The taxpayers' organization said "federal expenditures in fiscal 1957 beginning next July 1 will be substantially below the fiscal 1953 peacetime high of $74.3 billion."

The survey suggested, however, that "new spending proposals now being widely discussed threaten to reverse the downward trend of recent years in federal expenditures."

"Federal spending must continue to be cut back if there is to be avoidance of deficits in the future, reduction of the public debt now about $274.3 billion and assurance of relief from an oppressive burden of federal taxation."

Fayette Man Fatally Injured in Crash

BOONVILLE, Mo., (AP)—Carl Krintsler, 25, Fayette, Mo., was injured fatally last night when his car overturned after going over an 18-foot embankment on Highway 5 south of Glasgow.

John L. Cousley Services

Graveside services were held Saturday at 4 p.m. for John L. Cousley, who died Jan. 10, at Medina, O., of heart trouble. The Rev. D. Warren Neal, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, officiated.

Mr. Cousley was born in Sedalia on July 4, 1886. He was the son of the late William P. and Mattie McNeil Cousley. After leaving high school he went to work in the Missouri Pacific shops, where he was employed for 25 years.

Surviving are: his wife, Leatha Leffler Cousley, Texarkana; two daughters, Mrs. Allen Hoffman, Texarkana, and Mrs. Hugh Burke, Dixon, Ill.; and a sister, Miss Esther Cousley, Sedalia.

Relatives here to attend the services were Mrs. Hoffman and Dr. and Mrs. Burke and son.

Mrs. Melsena Bulkley Rites

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Gillespie Funeral Home for Mrs. Melsena Bulkley, 2514 East Broadway, who died Saturday at Bothwell Hospital, with the Rev. David M. Bryan, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Mrs. F. O. Withers and Mrs. C. W. Hurt sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Asleep in Jesus," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Paul Berthouex.

Burial was in Crown Hill Cemetery.

The body was at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

A. F. Sawyer Graveside Rites

Graveside services were held at 4 p.m. Sunday at Green Ridge Cemetery for Alexander F. Sawyer, 72, Kansas City, former Green Ridge resident. Mr. Sawyer, a former barber, died Jan. 12.

An earlier service was at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Melody-McGillie-Eylar Funeral Home, Kansas City.

Bond Issue Will Help CMSC

Time is moving along and within a week we will be going to the polls to vote for the $75,000,000 bond amendment to aid Missouri's eleemosynary, higher education and penal institutions—the date, January 24.

This proposal has been given statewide publicity and in general the field of information has been thoroughly covered. Sedalians and Central Missourians have an intimate connection with the program from the standpoint of Missouri University and Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, our next door neighbor, where there is provided educational facilities for many students in the surrounding area.

Donald Barnes, 909 West Tenth Street is a member of a CMSC committee formed to help secure passage of the bond amendment. He is serving as student representative of Sedalia and Pettis County. Barnes feels that its passage has very definite importance to Central Missouri State College and its services to the people of Sedalia, Pettis County and Central Missouri.

Because of its personalized appeal we think Barnes' opinion should be given the prominence it deserves, so it is here-with presented in hopes that the voters of this area will be better informed about the needs of CMSC and encouraged to vote for the bond proposal a week from Tuesday:

"On January 24, the citizens of Missouri will go to the polls to approve or disapprove the 75 million dollar bond proposal, and to register their decision on the future progress of this state's educational, penal, eleemosynary institutions. The various institutions have presented their needs to the Governor and his committee.

"What does the 75 million dollar proposal mean to the people of Central Missouri from the educational point of view? As an approach to the answer let us consider first our nearby educational institution and the services it offers this community and this area. Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg now has an enrollment of 2003, of whom 131 are residents of Pettis County alone. In addition most of the students at CMSC are residents of this central area of Missouri.

"Furthermore, the majority of teachers in the Sedalia Public Schools and the schools of this area are former students at Warrensburg, and consequently their education experience has a very definite influence on the whole educational setup in the public schools of Central Missouri and Sedalia.

"Central Missouri State College stands to gain greatly if the bond issue is passed, and as CMSC gains the whole of Central Missouri gains even more because of the influence the College and its graduates have on this area.

"Consider for a moment the deficiencies and problems at CMSC. The lack of facilities for fine arts is one of the most disgraceful things. Part of this department is situated in old Dockery Building built as a physical education building in 1904 and condemned for many years as a fire hazard. The Music Department is located in an abandoned third floor gymnasium and basketball court, while the Speech Department is packed into two classrooms, the Speech Correction Laboratory in a hallway to the Speech Office, and the Drama section in the abandoned swimming pool and shower rooms in the basement. The rest of the Fine Arts—the Art Department is housed in very inadequate facilities in the old power house.

"Science professors are trying to teach several hundred science students in packed classrooms and very inadequate laboratories. The Science Building, constructed in 1916, is woefully inadequate now and cannot meet the future demands as a result of increased enrollment expected in the next ten years.

"The Education Department and the Laboratory School in the Humphreys Education Building are badly crowded and must be expanded or face the possibility of discontinuing some services in the future.

"The need for more classroom space at Warrensburg is vividly pointed up when we consider that there have been only four classrooms added since 1917 when the Administration Building was completed. In 1917 CMSC had an enrollment of 467. Now with only four additional classrooms CMSC has an enrollment of more than two thousand.

"Furthermore, it is estimated that in 1965—just nine years hence—the CMSC enrollment will be 4,000, and that by 1970 enrollment figures will exceed 5,000.

"For years funds for Missouri schools have been inadequate. At the same time facilities have been depreciating, and the demands on their services have been increasing.

"Essentially, approval of the proposal and a realistic apportionment of funds by the General Assembly will mean that Central Missouri State College and other state educational institutions will be able to catch up with present demands and to brace themselves for the tremendous demand they must meet in the next two decades. Passage of the bond program will indicate that Missouri is placing just importance on her state educational responsibilities."

Good work, Donald—we hope it brings results.

Drew Pearson Says—

Dulles Paints Gloom Picture to Senators

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Less than a week after Ike's State of the Union message stressing the rosy foreign outlook, Secretary of State Dulles gave a long, gloomy, country-by-country report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee behind closed doors.

Dulles complained about Communist gains in the French General Assembly, the West German political realignment reducing Chancellor Adenauer's majority, and Prime Minister Eden's slipping prestige in England. He also confessed "concern" over the brewing trouble in the Middle East, North Africa, and the Far East.

Listening carefully, Minnesota's blunt-tongued Sen. Hubert Humphrey finally blurted: "I am having a little difficulty, Mr. Secretary, squaring your account of these trouble spots with the president's State of the Union message."

Dulles stammered something about the "over-all picture" being good, then Indiana's GOP Senator Homer Capehart came to his rescue.

"Would you say, Mr. Secretary, that taking the free world as a whole conditions are much, much better than they were and people are much better off than they were?" he asked helpfully.

Hastily Dulles agreed. "You mean conditions in India are good?" demanded Sen. Bill Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat.

"Conditions in India are better," defended the secretary.

"Since the subject of India has come up," broke in Humphrey again, "I would like to know why you made your Goa statement."

This diplomatic pronouncement, favoring Portuguese rule over the disputed Goa colony in India, caused outraged reaction throughout India.

Dulles admitted he was trying to please the Portuguese foreign minister who was visiting this country at the time.

"I knew my statement would cause some concern in India," the secretary said. "But failure to make the statement would have caused concern in Portugal. You can't please everyone. Sound diplomacy called for us to make the statement while the Portuguese foreign minister was in this country."

closed-door meeting ended on a note of bipartisan strain.

Divorce and Giveaway

The Interior Department is going to unusual lengths to coach and shield witnesses testifying before Congress on the Rogue River National Forest giveaway.

The latest is the case of J. R. Thoenen, head of the Bureau of Mines at Norris, Tenn., whom Sen. Kerr Scott (D., N.C.) requested to be present and testify why he ok'd an assay firm in Mobile, Ala., to assay alleged gold in ore from the Al Sarena mining claim in Oregon. Hitherto, no government bureau had been able to find more than an infinitesimal, unprofitable trace of gold in the ore, yet the Alabama firm suddenly and surprisingly came up with the opinion that a lot of ore existed in them tar hills.

Since then, the ore samples have been dumped in the Rogue River and no gold mining has been done on the property. But plenty of timber cutting has—much of course was the real reason why the McDonald family of Mobile lobbied to get hold of this valuable forest land for only $5 an acre.

When the senators asked that key witness Thoenen testify, however, the Interior Department replied: "He's in Tennessee with a sick wife who's hospitalized with heart disease. He can't leave."

The senators, however, discovered quite the contrary. The wife was not in a hospital in Tennessee, but an ex-wife was on the warpath in Washington. She was lying in wait for Thoenen with a subpoena for nonsupport.

Faced with this information, James Parriott, associate solicitor of the Interior Department, admitted he had lied, claimed he was only trying to protect Thoenen, didn't want him jailed for nonsupport.

Finally, however, Parriott changed his tactics, called the Senate committee and advised: "You can serve a subpoena on Thoenen at the George Mason hotel in Alexandria, Va. He will be there waiting for you."

Parriott had looked into the lawbooks and found that if a man is under subpoena under one process he cannot be served with another. If under subpoena from the Senate, therefore, he could enter the District of Columbia without getting into the clutches of his wife.

Dulles May Surprise Reds With Review

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, who seems to have a sunny nature, is able to look back upon his part in events with pride and contentment although the same events may have left others shaken and gloomy.

It may come as a surprise to the Communists that Dulles, recalling his role in the Indochina war, seems to think he scared the day-lights out of them although they won half of Viet Nam.

Life magazine, in an interview with Dulles, quotes him as saying—and he says the quotes are substantially correct—the United States has been brought to the brink of war three times in 18 months, once in Indochina.

Dulles seems to think that getting up to the edge, and teetering on it, is artistic. He said, "The ability to get to the verge without getting into the war is the necessary art."

How he came to think this way needs a little explaining:

After World War II the French, who had held Indochina almost 1000 years and exploited it, still refused the people their independence. The revolt which broke out came under the control of the Indochinese Reds.

The rebels were only guerrillas, but in a war which lasted from 1946 to 1954, the French couldn't rally the rest of the Vietnamese.

As Sedalia Sees It—

U.S. Geographical Advantage Becomes Target of Russians

By Joseph A. Dear
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The importance of successful diplomacy to the survival of the nation is increasing.

In fact, the margin of superiority the United States and its allies today enjoy is to a considerable extent the direct result of our diplomatic effort since the end of World War II. Holding this superiority over Russia in the future will be an acid test of our foreign policy.

The reason why is set forth in a brilliant article in Foreign Affairs Quarterly by Paul Nitze. He is the former director of the State Department Policy Planning Staff, and was vice-chairman of the Strategic Bombing Survey.

Weapons development programs in Russia have progressed to such an extent that our lead in the military equipment area is vanishing. It is possible that Russia will achieve parity, with respect to nuclear devices and delivery systems.

Even so, Nitze writes, "the geographic factor should give the West the possibility of a continuing and decisive margin of superiority." The United States, he notes, "is vulnerable to direct attack only from bases on the Eurasian land mass and from submarines." Russia, though, must defend itself from bases, which are much nearer its borders, and from the seas which are controlled by us and our allies.

The geographic factor also is important in this sense: An aggressor probably would direct his first attacks at the bases from which counter-attacks might come. For control of the air would settle the outcome of the war. Therefore, the greater the dispersal of bases, the less likely it is that a sneak attack could deprive us of retaliatory power.

(Nitze, incidentally, concedes all would lose if there is an atomic war. But he writes that one side might achieve victory without destroying the world.)

American airbases, and bases built under our supervision and with our assistance, are everywhere: Europe, Africa, Asia, on islands of the Atlantic and Pacific. In most instances, our forces hold their bases only with the permission of friendly governments. The agreements which govern the operation of overseas bases were worked out by the State Department.

Russia, Nitze writes, is well aware of the strength that occupation of these bases gives us. The Russian diplomatic offensive is intended to deprive us of geographic advantages.

Any policy, he notes, which contributes to neutralism in countries where our bases are, "may rob the West of that geographic advantage which is potentially its greatest strength."

Q's and A's On $75,000,000 Bond Issue

The Governor of the State of Missouri has set January 24 for a special referendum election on a $75,000,000 bond issue to finance a building program.

This is one of a series of questions and answers concerning What It Is, Why It Is Needed and What It Will Do.

Q. Why is this a constitutional amendment rather than a regular bond issue election?

A. Article III, Section 37 of the Constitution requires that when a State liability in excess of one million dollars is to be incurred, the proposition must be submitted to the people as a Constitutional Amendment.

Q. Who is informing the public about this election?

A. When Governor Donnelly, on November 18, announced the date for the referendum election, he named an executive committee of three principal groups of state institutions that will share in the bond proceeds, and he directed this committee to direct and supervise "an active and extensive campaign." He also requested the executive committee to appoint a state-wide citizens advisory committee, representing professional groups, industries, and organizations to carry on the actual campaign work through the state. The executive committee is composed of Dr. Elmer Ellis, president of the University of Missouri, chairman; T. H. Douglas, Bolivar, president of the Board of Regents of Southwest Missouri State College; Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman, retired, Springfield, who was chairman of a penal survey commission created by Governor Donnelly after the disastrous prison riots of last fall; Supreme Court Judge Henry J. Westhues, Jefferson City; and David P. Wohl, St. Louis, also members of that penal survey commission; W. Ed. Jameson, Fulton, former director of the State Department of Public Health and Welfare; and Lee C. Deason of Hannibal, former member of the Board of Managers of State eleemosynary institutions.

THE LESSON was getting complicated for the 13-year-old girl whose aunt was trying to help her with grammar. She was trying to teach her possessive and plurals, and was using the word brother-in-law as an example.

"Now plural," she said, "would be brothers-in-law but possessive would be brother-in-law's." Then she went on to explain, "Now it could be plural and possessive at the same time, like brothers-in-law's," and going still farther she added, "Like brothers-in-law's wives."

"Well," queried her younger sister in another corner of the room, "why not just say your sisters?"

No wonder she had confused the little niece, she had confused herself so much that she didn't even realize that her brothers-in-law's wives would naturally be her sisters.—H.L.

IN A KINDERGARTEN they elect a president among the small pupils to serve a short period. When one of the little girls was elected president she was thrilled no end. She wanted to wear her best dress the next day with crinoline petticoat.

"Oh," said her mother, "you don't want to wear that to school."

"Well," came the reply, "I think the president should be dressed up."—H.L.

Pettis Soils, Crops Conference Will Be Held Here on January 28

Two Delegates Are Selected In Each Town

Every community in Pettis County has one or more delegates appointed to this year's Annual Soils and Crops Conference to be held at Sedalia on Jan. 28 as announced by Robert Longan, chairman of this meeting. While others have always been welcome, the committee arranging for this year's conference is extending a special invitation to all interested in farming and particularly to the wives of those attending.

The delegate list of last year's conference has been carefully checked by the Pettis County conference committee, composed of Lee Dow, John Sneed, Jr., Carl Raines, Eugene Scotten, Harold Whitall and Longan. Those who have taken part in similar conferences or have taken an active interest in soils, crops, pasture improvement and soil conservation problems of Pettis County have been designated as delegates.

While the following delegates were appointed by the Pettis County Soils and Crops Committee to insure county-wide representation, everyone interested will be most welcome and are urged to attend.

The delegates are:

Blackwater Township: Earl Winston, Forrest Dohrman, Harry Harvey, Earl Neef, Raymond Whitall, E. F. Rissler, J. W. Bell, Guy Ballow, Cyrus Charles, R. Higgins, Raymond Brandt, Louis Staples, Dean Knight and W. T. Patrick.

Cedar Township: Jack Curran, Alfred C. Smith, James L. McCurdy, C. H. Williams, Jr., A. C. Runge, A. C. Henderson, Jr., J. L. Reine, Harry Runge, J. A. DeJarnette, John Silsby, W. H. Pittman and William L. Kraft.

Elk Fork Township: A. A. Yokley, C. G. Schlobohm, P. D. Hull, W. B. Chaney, George Landes, Frank Breon, Robert R. Anderson, Guy Mahin, Paul Curtis, Eugene Scotten and Willard Hall.

Bowling Green Township: Harold Blacklock, Earl Wood, J. W. Raines, E. L. Birdsong, O. W. McClain, McKinley Thomas, Logan Siegel, John Sneed, J. M. Burk, Clarence King, John Youngkamp, Hubert Summers and W. H. Marlin.

Flat Creek Township: Milton J. Smith, Robert Welliver, Emmett Fairfax, Henry Alt, A. B. Cordes, Eldon C. Leiter, Olyn Rugen, Leo Coffey, Parke B. Green, Melvin Dickman, Wallace Cordes, Chester Wisman and Tom Yeater.

Green Ridge Township: Gale Van Slyke, Loy H. Smith, Charles Dump, Russell Harbit, Russell H. Miller, Carl E. Johnson, Ray Shepherd, Waldo Harbit, Charles S. Walkup, Earl B. Hinken, Owen Raymer, Chester Feaster and Floyd Egbert.

Heaths Creek Township: Cloyd Leftwich, Jack Leftwich, G. R. Raines, Loren Arnett, Virgil Ellis, Albert Anderson, John Greer, Earl Schroeder, Van G. Jones, John Short, Albert Arnold and O. D. Raines.

Houstonia Township: Wayne Davis, Philip Imhauser, J. E. Tolson, C. L. Parkhurst, Leonard DeBord, James Blackburn, Ramon C. Wicker, James A. Harris, Earl Gregory, Murray Wood, Fred Neef, W. P. Paul and J. W. Jenkins.

Hughesville Township: Edward Callis, Jr., C. S. Arnold, Otis M. Thomas, Julian Fowler, W. P. Fowler, Everett Vannoy, W. P. Nicholson, Jerry Conaway, Harold Williams, George C. Williams, Wilton Edgar, E. M. Green and Robert Cunningham.

GOOD FARMING

in Pettis County
By MERLE VAUGHAN
County Extension Agent

Dates Ahead Include

Jan. 20th — Outlook and Public Affairs Meeting, 1:30 in the Assembly Room.

Jan. 24 — Farm records meeting, 9:30 to 3 in the basement of the Fifth Street Methodist Church.

Also Jan. 24 — Vote on the bond issue for $75,000,000 improvement and repair program on our state schools and other institutions.

Jan. 28 — 32nd Annual Soils and Crops Conference, 10 to 3, high school cafeteria.

Jan. 31 — County garden meeting, 1:30, assembly room.

Outlook for 1956

The outlook to be discussed Jan. 20 indicates things we need to buy from farmers will be lower but from non-farmers as higher. Looking ahead then, if we will need feed or seed and can buy good quality products from our neighbors it will be good business to do so. Certainly a germination test should also be made on seed grown yourself. I heard an example of that the other day. A man had kept his milo seed to be cleaned and because it wasn't ready he bought enough seed to plant a small field. It came right up but later plantings with his own seed had to be planted over. Barley is another crop that may heat enough from early combining to damage germination.

Now to things we sell. Beef cattle are to be only slightly stronger and hogs slightly lower. Things we can do are to lower costs of production. One of the quickest is saving a 100 per cent calf crop and more pigs per litter. Along with that can come good pasture both for the cattle and hogs. Clean ground will help the pigs and moving the cow herd out away from old lots and pens will be good for the calves. Adequate feed is important and mineral should be supplied. It can be limestone and salt for hogs and bone meal and salt for cattle. Parasites must be controlled and cattle

ADA Reports Production For December

According to the monthly report of George Upton, supervisor of the Morgan County DHA, for the month of December here were 19 herds with a total of 507 cows on test.

The average milk production per cow for the entire association was 581.6 pounds and the average butterfat production per cow was 26.5 pounds.

The five herds with the highest butterfat production was as follows, by owner, breed, average pounds of milk and average pounds of butterfat: Elmer Heimsoth, R.H., 871 and 36.9; Carl Denker, mixed, 873 and 35.3; Vincel Klein, R.J., 561 and 34.5; J. E. Rowland, R.J., 576 and 33.8; and D. E. Parkes, G.H., 818 and 32.9.

Cows completing annual record this month with over 350 pounds of butterfat are as follows, by owner, breed, cow's name or number, pounds of milk, pounds of butterfat, age by year and months, and number of days on test:

Stevens Dairy Farm, R. J., S-8, 12,170, 615, 5-11 and 291.

revenue from state income taxes is expected to take care of them without any increase in taxes.

The main thing is that it is the only way available right now to get the funds and the need is very urgent. Dr. Elmer Ellis who is President of the State University and Chairman of the Bond Drive Committee, told us recently that it still would be 1959 before any new buildings constructed with such funds would be completed and ready for use.

With that is the fact that 1000 youngsters could not register at the University last year because of a lack of housing and that no more Home Economics students can be taken there because of a lack of class room space. The other state schools are in the same condition, the penitentiary is in dire need of repaired buildings and the other state institutions are much over crowded.

Actually the vote the 24th is only half the problem. Dr. Ellis told us that this construction would scarcely bring us up to present needs and not provide anything for the future. I believe that estimates of needs for all state institutions recently was 125 million.

He also told us that the states of Kansas and Nebraska had a mill tax or slightly more to keep such construction up to needs. Such a move would not help on past needs and we need the bonds now. However such action by the state legislature at the next session could take care of future needs.

Vote January 24th

It is hoped that folks attending the above meeting Jan. 24 will take time to visit their voting place before or after the meeting. The occasion of course is the vote on the amendment to provide a bond issue of $75,000,000. This money is to be used to provide new buildings and repair old ones at our State colleges and University and at the state penitentiary and other institutions over the state.

Some folks have questioned whether this is the right way to raise the money. It does seem to be one of the most painless since

ASC Important As It Affects Every Farmer In Missouri

EDITOR'S NOTE: Much has been printed lately about administrative problems and conflicts in Missouri, but the fact remains that, aside from all this, the ASC work has an important place in Missouri agriculture. The following is a report about that work.)

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation in Missouri is big business as revealed by a report compiled by the State ASC Committee recently.

The programs assigned to the committee, directly or indirectly, affect every farmer in the state and, of course, Missouri is not only an agricultural state, but there is more diversification in Missouri than most any other state in the nation.

Chairman Murray C. Colbert stated today, "We know, of course, that a lot of problems come before the committee in the administration of the price support, agricultural conservation program, the production adjustment programs and other programs assigned to us, but it is hard to realize the vastness of the over-all operations until the facts and figures are pulled together.

The report released today covers the calendar year 1954, according to Colbert. It revealed that during that year there were nearly 18,000,000 bushels of grain under price support with a total value of nearly $35,000,000. However, Colbert pointed out that this particular year was much below average because of the extreme drought that cut the corn crop down in Missouri. Farmers had availed themselves of 3,011 farm storage facility loans for storage structures on their own farms.

Under the Agricultural Conservation Program, $7,594,936 was earned by farmers in Missouri as federal cost shares for soil conservation practices. Such practices included application of agricultural limestone, ponds for livestock water, cover crops to prevent soil erosion, terraces, etc.

"During this particular year we assisted nearly 22,000 farmers in the drought area to plant emergency cover crops that could be used for forage and thus the liquidation of many herds and flocks was prevented," commented Colbert.

Under the production adjustment program the report reveals that 91,608 acreage determinations were made on wheat by the county ASC offices, 138,692 for corn, 16,630 for cotton and 1,715 for tobacco. In Missouri ASC administrators the production adjustment program for all of the so-called basic crops, namely wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

"Thus the state and county office personnel must know the law and all the regulations pertaining to all these programs," stated the chairman.

"The State ASC Committee is quite proud of the accomplishments for the year. It is our policy to administer the programs in a fair and equitable manner so that all farmers in Missouri can benefit," said Colbert.

Records Vital In Reporting Income Taxes

By PAUL BEBERMEYER
MU Extension Farm Management Specialist

How much time are you putting in right now getting all your figures ready to make out your income tax report? Are your paid bills, and cancelled checks collected? Are you sure you haven't mislaid some? If you do have them, have you got them classified and totaled so you can report them properly on your tax blank?

Here is how our Missouri Looseleaf Farm Record Book will save you time. As you make sales and purchases during the year, you write them down on simple bookkeeping pages designed especially for Missouri farmers. There are columns to properly classify your sales and purchases throughout the year. At the end of the year all you have to do is add your columns and you have the totals all ready for your income tax report. You don't have to paw through all those bills and receipts.

Keeping our Missouri Looseleaf Record Book will save you money, too. How many tickets for your cash purchases have you lost? Or maybe you didn't even get a ticket. So now you have no record of mixed feed distributed in the 85 counties in Missouri that were in the drought area.

Under the 1954 emergency feed program (finished in the early part of 1955) feed discounts were issued in the amount of $5,212,124 to assist farmers in 82 counties to obtain needed feed supplies.

Castor bean purchase program, 398,971 pounds of castor beans were purchased for a total cost of $23,938.

The record shows that 43,146 items of mail was sent from the state office and 2,033,076 from the 114 county offices in the administration of the programs.

"The State ASC Committee is quite proud of the accomplishments for the year. It is our policy to administer the programs in a fair and equitable manner so that all farmers in Missouri can benefit," said Colbert.

of any sort and you don't get it down as expense on your tax report. That costs you money because each $10 of expense you fail to report costs you $2 in unnecessary taxes. But, that's not all. To get that $2 you had to take in about $6 gross farm income.

Do you have all of your buildings, machinery, and purchased breeding livestock listed on a depreciation schedule so you can conveniently deduct depreciation as an expense? There are sheets for this in our record book. Once you get your depreciation schedule set up, deductions for depreciation are easy to figure. Again, remember that each $10 of depreciation you fail to deduct can cost you $2 in needless tax.

When you shipped that bunch of mixed cattle, did you get the value of those breeding cows separated so you could report them on Schedule D? If you didn't, you'll probably pay 50 per cent too much tax on your gains on these cows. Our record book has a sheet where you can separate sales of breeding livestock.

Something new has been added to income tax reporting this year. It is your self-employment tax, commonly called social security tax. This tax is based on your income—but only on your income from work. Income from investments doesn't count. So that's another bookkeeping problem—separating farm investment income from farm earned income.

Get a Missouri Looseleaf Farm Record Book at your county agent's office and get his suggestions for keeping it.

The Colorado Buffaloes, only team that isn't hurting at the moment in the Big Seven Conference basketball race, this week will meet the only league rival that defeated the 1955 champions.

Colorado will take on Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday in one of four conference games scheduled for the week. Last season Nebraska was the only Big Seven team that tripped the Buffaloes who went as far as the semifinals in the NCAA tournament.

It will be the second meeting of Colorado and Nebraska in league play. The Buffaloes won the first one, 78-63, at Boulder last week.

Coach Bebe Lee's Buffaloes of their tougher tests last Saturday what was considered one day in beating Missouri 79-72 at Boulder. It was Colorado's second conference victory against no defeats.

Tonight's two-game firing should have important bearing on the championship. Iowa State and Kansas, both a winner last Saturday, will meet at Lawrence, Iowa State brought its conference record to 1-1 by outlasting Oklahoma (0-3), 58-55, at Norman. Kansas invaded Manhattan to defeat favored Kansas State 91-86. Both teams stand 2-1 in the race.

The other conference game will involve Missouri (1-1) and Kansas State at Columbia Saturday.

Iowa State will meet long-time rival Drake in a non-leaguer at Ames Friday night. Oklahoma is not scheduled.

Free throws paid off for Iowa State against Oklahoma. The undermanned Sooners, youngest squad in the Big Seven, outshot Iowa State from the field, 19-18, but Iowa State made 22 free throws to Oklahoma's 17. Gary Thompson, Iowa State's great little guard, was the leading scorer with 20 points.

Lionel Smith of Missouri racked up 27 points, but Missouri wasn't up to beating Colorado. All eight Colorado players figured in the balanced attack of the winner. The return to action of Mick Mansfield, Colorado guard, also was an important factor in the game. Mansfield had been hobbled with a bad ankle in early season.

Kansas got 24 points from guard Dallas Dobbs against Kansas State and in general had a good night.

Beautiful Approach Shots Make Winner

SEA ISLAND, Ga., (AP)—A beautiful approach shot and a fine putt under pressure yesterday sent Marlene Bauer Hage of Asheville, N. C., into the winner's circle of the Sea Island Women's Invitational Tournament, the first in the Ladies Professional Golfers' Assn. 1956 tour.

The victory was worth $630. Mrs. Hage won it the hard way knocking in a par four on the first extra hole of a sudden death play-off.

She finished the regulation 36 holes in a three-way tie with Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis. All three posted 152s in the $3,500 tournament played over the tough men's par 36-72 course.

Miss Faulk and Miss Ziske divided second and third prizes, collecting checks for $427.50 each.

Pleasure Flight Ends In Disaster for Four

TUCSON, Ariz., (AP)—A Sunday afternoon pleasure flight ended in death for four people when their plane stalled while coming in for a landing, crashed and burst into flames.

Witnesses said the Beechcraft Bonanza's pilot, Earl E. Comer, 64, of Tucson, a one-legged World War I flier, veered sharply at tree-top level to avoid another plane.

Two of the dead were tentatively identified as Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore of Tucson. Mrs. Moore's mother Mrs. Alice Stewart, about 65, was thrown from the plane and killed.

Baseball Schedule Shows Increase In Night Game Contests

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League's 1956 baseball schedule puts the accent on night games with an all-time high of 228 arc light contests scheduled.

This tops the previous high of 224 games scheduled in 1953 and is far more than last year's 208 scheduled night games of which only 200 were played because of weather.

Opening day April 17 finds Cleveland at Chicago, Kansas City at Detroit, New York at Washington and Baltimore at Boston. The season closes Sept. 30 with Chicago at Kansas City, Detroit at Cleveland, Boston at New York and Baltimore at Washington.

Villanova Has Good Material For Olympics

BOSTON (AP)—Olympic committeemen and college track coaches take note: the team to remember is Villanova.

The Wildcats from suburban Philadelphia awed the onlookers Saturday at the invitational Knights of Columbus Games which launched the indoor banked board season. They won five events and gained a tie for first in the sixth event in which its members competed.

Phil Reavis, a 5-9 sophomore from Somerville, Mass., commanded attention as an Olympic prospect for this year by clearing 6 feet, 9 1/4 inches in the high jump—only an inch short of the world indoor record.

Ron Delaney, a Villanova sophomore from Dublin, Ireland, jogged confidently to victory in a comparatively slow mile in 4:11.2.

Charlie Jenkins, the piston-striding Olympic hope from near-by Cambridge and another of the Villanova crew, purred to a winning 1:11.4 effort in the 600, then anchored his team's winning mile relay unit which defeated Manhattan's crack foursome. The time was 3:20.0.

George Synor, still another Villanova sophomore, won the 50-yard dash in 5.4 seconds.

And Don Bragg of Villanova tied with the Rev. Bob Richards, Don Laz and Jerry Welbourn at 14 feet 6 inches in the pole vault.

In other phases of the meet Harrison Dillard won his 18th medal locally in the 45-yard high hurdles (5.7). Horace Ashenfelter won as advertised in the two-mile (9:03.6) and Pvt. Tom Courtney, ex-Fordham, captured the 1,000 (2:14.6).

Pittsburgh's two-mile relay team got the only meet record with a 7:39.6 clocking. Previous best was Syracuse's 7:41.9 of a year ago.

Sen. Kefauver Ends His 400-Mile Tour

LACONIA, N. J., (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) today wound up a 400-mile New Hampshire campaign swing with a confident prediction that he again will win the first-in-the-nation presidential primary here March 13.

The senator, who visited 15 communities during his three-day automobile tour, planned to board a plane for Washington.

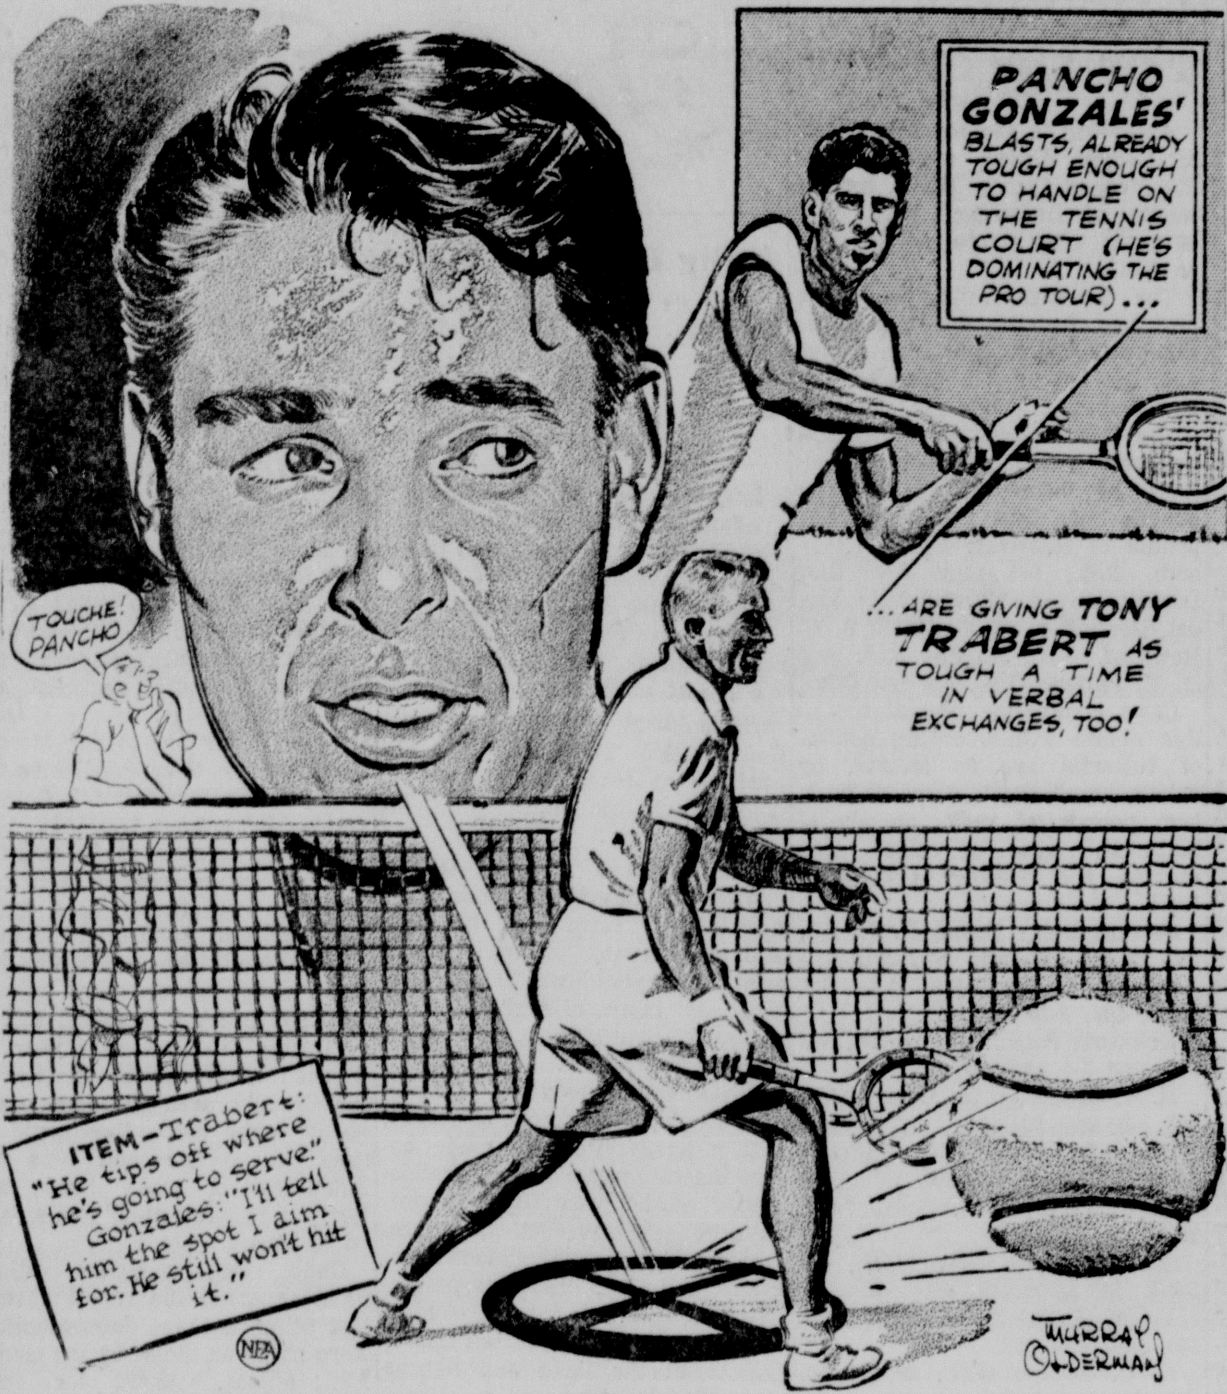

His optimism was not confined to New Hampshire, where he upset President Harry S. Truman in the 1952 primary. Later he lost his first bid for the Democratic presidential nomination at the party's national convention.

"This time things are going to be different," he declared.

Coast Guard Looks For Russian Mines

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan coast guard today sent four patrol boats into the Sea of Japan to hunt for floating Russian mines. The coast guard said 10 Russian mines had floated ashore on northern Honshu, the main island, in the last month and three had exploded. One blew out all the windows of a factory half a mile away.

CALLING HIS SHOTS

Now the Fun Starts As Every Team Tries for NCAA Berth

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The collegians have half the basketball season behind them, and now the fun starts — with everybody shooting the works to gain a berth in the NCAA championship tournament.

Everybody, that is, except those amazing San Francisco Dons. They've got their reservation in hand in their bid for a second straight title.

The Dons have tied the 39-game college winning record set by Long Island University and previously matched by Setor Hall. They are on the shelf to tackle mid-term

Budweisers Will Bowl Against Detroit For Nat'l Championship

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Budweisers of St. Louis will head for Detroit next week with an imposing 965-pin lead at the halfway point of their national match team bowling championship series with the Detroit Stroh's, the defending champs.

Ray Bluth scored 736 and Dick Weber 722 last night as the Buds hit the Stroh's with a series of strikes to take the fourth three-game block, 3,347 to 2,951. The final 12 games will be played in Detroit next weekend.

No Decision on Who Would Replace Team

LINCOLN (AP)—Directors of the Class A Western Baseball League adjourned here early today without making a decision on who would replace Wichita, Kan., which moved up to the American Assn.

The directors agreed to meet again Jan. 28 at Colorado Springs, Colo., to decide whether Topeka or Hutchinson, Kan., would get the open berth. Rapid City, S. D., the third city under consideration, decided to postpone their decision.

The city selected will join Amarillo, Tex., and Albuquerque, N. M., as new members of the loop. The Western operated last year with six teams — Lincoln, Des Moines and Sioux City, Iowa, Pueblo, Colo., Colorado Springs, and Wichita.

Topeka and Hutchinson made their franchise bids with reservations.

Topeka asked for a two week extension to raise necessary capital, but Hutchinson's delegation said it was interested only if guaranteed a full working agreement with a major club.

exams and won't go after their record-setting 40th in a row until Jan. 28 when they meet California.

The Dons have an "automatic" entry into the NCAA Tournament come March since they can't miss being champs of the California Basketball Assn.

The other 24 berths in the playoffs, however, are wide open.

Dayton, with a 12-0 record, tops the independents at present but had to scramble to overcome Canisius 82-73 Saturday.

In the Big Ten, Illinois (3-0) and Purdue (3-1) are on top and they battle tonight. The Illini bounced Indiana 96-72 Saturday while Purdue upset Michigan State 66-62.

In the Southeastern Conference, Vanderbilt and Alabama are challenging the reign of Kentucky. All three are 3-0 and Vandy tries for No. 4 tonight against Mississippi State.

Kentucky breezed Saturday, whipping Louisiana State 107-65 as Bob Burrow scored 50 points.

Vandy beat Mississippi 88-73 and 'Bama topped Auburn 96-77.

Duke and North Carolina share the Atlantic Coast Conference lead at 6-1. North Carolina beat Clemson Saturday 103-99, but needed a double overtime, while Duke toppled Maryland 76-62.

In the Southern Conference, West Virginia (5-1) has the favorite role.

Defending champ Colorado tops the Big Seven with a 3-0 mark, with Kansas and Kansas State right behind at 2-1. Kansas clipped K-State Saturday 91-86 and meets Iowa State tonight.

St. Louis (4-0) and Oklahoma A&M (2-0) are squared off for another Missouri Valley Conference scrap.

Southern Methodist and late-starting Arkansas rule the Southwest Conference at the moment with 3-0 records. Arkansas plays Texas A&M tonight.

Princeton (3-0) and Columbia (2-0) are the big guns in the Ivy League.

UCLA is tops in the Pacific Coast Conference at 4-0 with Southern California and Stanford 3-1.

Man Admits Offers Are All Fictitious

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police reprimanded and released a 40-year-old man who admitted his offers to several women were fictitious. He said he just wanted to get acquainted. Officers said the man obtained names of women seeking work from newspaper want ads, called and offered them jobs.

Saddler-Elorde Bout Will Steal Guild's Thunder

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A world featherweight title match at San Francisco Wednesday between champion Sandy Saddler and challenger Flash Elorde will steal some of the headlines from the many-pronged investigations of the boxing guild.

Saddler, 29, is favored to cling to the title he has held since Sept. 8, 1950, when he recaptured it from Willie Pep. It has been almost a year since Saddler last defended, against Teddy (Red Top) Davis.

The chief reason for the Elorde match is that the little man from the Philippines beat Saddler in an over-the-weight match July 20, 1955 at Manila.

Boxing continues in New York past today's deadline set by Julius Helfand, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, with licensed managers meeting the test by resigning from the broken Boxing Guild of New York.

Where total darkness threatened 10 days ago, now two shows will be run in the state this week at New York and Syracuse.

The Monday pairing between John L. Sullivan of England and Tony Johnson of New York was approved by Helfand in fairness to the boxers and all concerned.

DuMont will telecast. The Friday fight at Syracuse is a match between middleweights Gil Turner of Philadelphia and Jackie Labau of New York.

Florida Cold Wave Expected to Lift

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—A sustained cold wave which brought south Florida an unwelcome week of frost and ice that wiped out crops and chilled tourists was expected to begin loosening its grip today.

The amount of damage it caused is not yet determined. Vegetable crops were hardest hit. The state's citrus crop, which grows further north, was largely undamaged.

In one last slap, the cold wave brought heavy frost yesterday morning to south Dade County (Miami) and the lush vegetable fields near Lake Okeechobee. These areas generally were bypassed by earlier frosts.

Damage in Dade County alone was estimated at thirty million dollars.

Plane Skids on Hard Packed Runway Snow

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., (AP)—Skidding on hard-packed snow during a routine landing, an Eastern Airlines Silver Falcon with 32 passengers and a crew of three left the runway at Huntington Airport last night and narrowly missed plunging 400 feet into a ravine.

The win-engine plane, en route from Louisville, Ky., to Charlotte, N. C., did drop onto a ledge in scrub growth some 60 feet below the runway, but all aboard escaped injury.

The passengers continued to their destinations on another flight.

Controversy On East-West Play Goes On

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sixth annual Pro Bowl football game goes into the books as a thrilling 31-30 victory for the East. But arguments continued today in the wake of an official's decision which may have cost the West two winning points.

The dispute centered on Field Judge Joe Gonzales and the call he made in the final seconds of this postseason all-star duel between top talent from the National Football League.

The West, trailing 31-30, tried a 50-yard field goal by Bert Rechichar of the Baltimore Colts.

It was obviously short and Joe (Scooter) Scudero of the Washington Redskins took the catch.

Enter the controversy. Did Scudero catch the ball on the two-yard mark, as most observers believe, and then almost casually take a step or two back and ground the ball in the end zone?

Or did he catch it on the goal line, or perhaps be forced back into the end zone by the momentum of the ball?

Whatever the case, the field judge ruled it an automatic touch-back and the ball was placed on the East 20 a moment before the game ended.

Coach Sid Gillman of the West, as did some of his players right on the spot, argued that the East should have been charged with an automatic safety — and the West given two points.

Ollie Matson, the fantastic ball carrier of the East, was the outstanding player of the game. The 210-pound powerhouse of the Chicago Cardinals returned the second half kickoff 91 yards for a touchdown, he ran 15 yards over most of the West team, and his 50-yard gallop on a punt return set the stage for a third touchdown.

Six Persons Die In Roaring Apartment House Blaze Sunday

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Flames roared through an old three-story apartment building near City Hall yesterday, taking the lives of four children and two adults.

Firemen used aerial ladders to reach smoke-filled corridors and rescue 22 of the 53 tenants in the structure. Several tenants leaped from windows into rescue nets.

A 3-year-old girl was dropped from a second story window right into the arms of a spectator.

The dead were David Root, 12; Ellen Root, 14, and Karen Root, 16, all children of Mrs. Helen Roscowicz, 39; Gerald Osowicz, 12; Mar in Jaraczewski, 75; and Mrs. Dorothy Kinney, 26.

Thirteen persons were hospitalized. None were reported in serious condition.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Fire Department officials estimated real estate damage at $75,000.

Illinois Church Fund Short Some $100,000

QUINCY, Ill., (AP)—More than $100,000 is believed missing from a Lutheran church account in the Mercantile Bank of Quincy.

The shortage was discovered after the death Nov. 28 of Andrew C. Schnack, treasurer of the Central Illinois District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, and president of the bank.

The exact amount will not be known until an audit is completed in about three months.

The shortage was announced Saturday by the bank. The bank did not estimate the loss, but the Quincy Herald-Whit learned from church officials that indications were it would run "into six figures."

Detroit Newspapers End 46-Day Strike

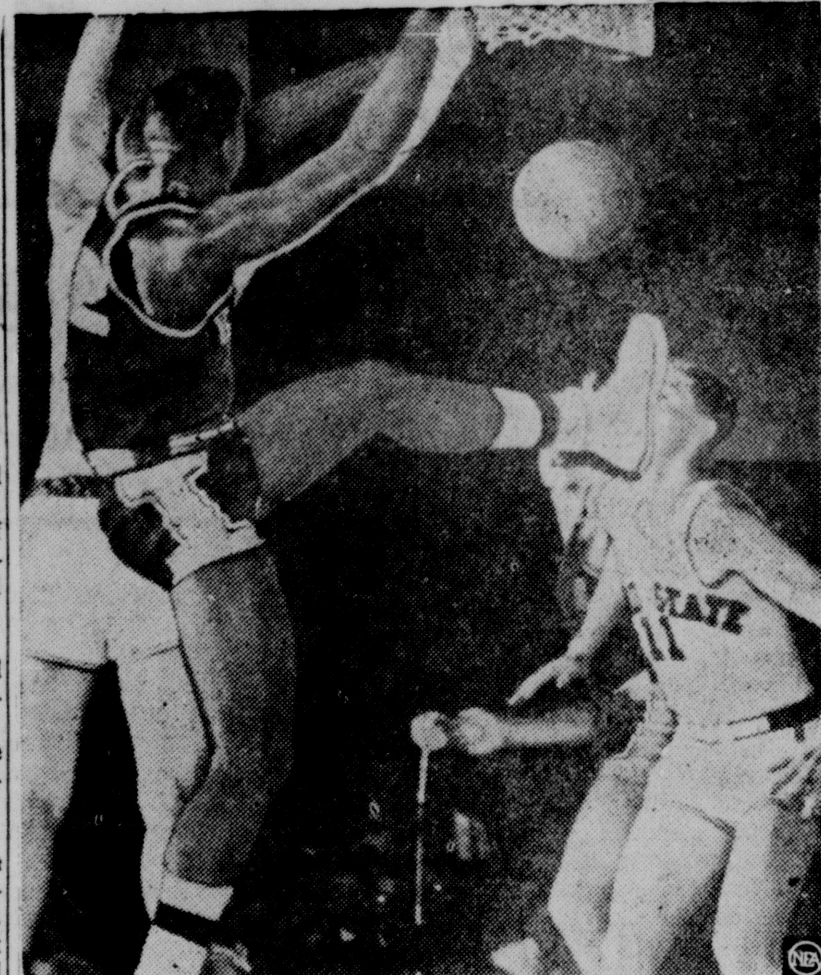

DETROIT (AP)—A 46-day strike-shutdown of Detroit's three metropolitan daily newspapers ended today.

It was one of the longest shutdowns in a competitive newspaper city in the last 10 years, and was set off Dec. 1 by a walkout of stereotypes.

Only contract ratification by truck drivers (teamsters) at the afternoon Times and morning Free Press remained today between full settlement with eight unions.

Drivers at the afternoon News approved a new pact unanimously yesterday and teamster leaders said ratification by the other two units was "a foregone conclusion."

All three newspapers, whose combined employment totals 4,600 and whose daily circulation totals more than 1,300,000, called back workers yesterday to begin readying the News and Times for publication today and the Free Press to roll tomorrow morning.

Dr. Middlecoff Breaks Pebble Beach Record

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., (AP)—If Dr. Cary Middlecoff isn't one of the greatest mudders in golfing history, he'll do for awhile.

The lean Tennessee slopped over Pebble Beach's 6,701 yards in an almost unbelievable 4-under-par 68 yesterday through a driving rainstorm to win his second straight Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament with a record-shattering 202 for the 54 holes.

"It was one of the greatest, yes, probably the greatest game I ever played," Middlecoff said. "I don't think I made a bad shot all day."

He had six birdies and only two bogeys over the course, which was under water in many places.

The old tournament record over the three courses played in the Crosby clam bake—Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula and Pebble Beach—was 204, set three years ago by Lloyd Mangrum.

Middlecoff's 202 was 14 strokes under par. He won $2,500.

Trailing was Mike Souchak, the former Duke University football player, who fired a par 72 for a total of 207. Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, who went into the final 18 holes tied with Middlecoff, blew to a 77 for a 211, which earned him a tie for third with Bill Ogden of Chicago.

Ben Hogan, who came out of retirement to pair with Bing Crosby in the Pro-Amateur, tumbled to 81 for a 221. He and Crosby tied for 10th in the Pro-Am with 196.

Dulles Storm May Force Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign policy appeared today to be assuming such proportions as a political issue that Secretary of State Dulles may be induced to take to the campaign stump.

He has said he has no present intentions of making presidential campaign speeches, but he may change his mind in the light of a furor over his latest defense of the administration's handling of foreign affairs.

A Life magazine article last week quoted him as having said the nation has looked war in the face in Asia three times and avoided it.

Dulles was roundly criticized by a number of Democrats and by some British newspapers for his quoted statement that "the ability to get to the verge without getting into war is the necessary art."

Vice President Nixon, Adlai E. Stevenson and Harold E. Stassen joined over the weekend in the debate swirling around Dulles' words.

Stevenson, again seeking the Democratic presidential nomination which he won in 1952, accused Dulles of being "willing to play Russian roulette with the life of our nation."

"Deliberate distortion," replied Stassen, Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament problems. Accusing Stevenson of having "partisan political ends," Stassen said in a statement that "the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy cannot fairly be labeled by any thoughtful and responsible American as recklessly playing Russian roulette and to so label it is harmful to the United States."

Hoover Thinks Public Should Stop Calling Policeman a Cop

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Of all the lost causes of the 20th Century, J. Edgar Hoover has embarked on the one perhaps least likely to succeed.

The distinguished director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who has had a marked cultural influence on the underworld, thinks respect for law and order would be enhanced if people would quit calling a policeman a cop.

Cop is an ugly word to Hoover. In an editorial in the FBI's law enforcement bulletin he denounced it as derogatory, disdainful and implying scorn.

This may be true at times when it is spoken in a certain tone or inflection. But unfortunately for his crusade, cop is one of those slang terms by which the American language is eternally enriched. It is too crisp and descriptive to be dropped from our vocabulary.

Equally unfortunate for Hoover's campaign is the truth that it isn't only underworld characters and snide members of the general public who use the term cop. Cops don't like the average citizen to call them cops. But what do they call themselves when talking to other members of the profession? Cops!

The current issue of the New York policeman's magazine uses the word cop twice. The television program, "Dragnet," put on with the blessings of the Los Angeles Police Department, starts off week after week with, "The Name's Friday. I'm a cop."

A veteran police sergeant here, admitting that members of the force generally referred to each other as cops and that the term had become well high universal, said:

"Underworld characters are supposed to call us names like flat-foot, dick, gumshoe or harness bull, but that's only on TV and in the movies. They call us cops—just like everybody else."

"We actually don't like for civilians to call us cops. We'd rather they addressed us by our rank or used the word 'officer.' We're on Hoover's side, but we think he's fighting a losing battle. It's too much easier to say cop than policeman."

There is some doubt as to the origin of the word cop. Some hold it is merely an abbreviation for "constable of police," others feel it was coined by London street urchins who mistook the brass buttons of the early British Bobby for copper.

Whatever its etymology, Hoover declared cop has the "same unsavory connotation as 'quack' and 'hack' when referring to the doctor and the journalist."

But, actually, does it? The term is too widely used to be limited to such a meager interpretation.

What man in "the long blue line" doesn't take pride in being called "a good cop"? What policeman can resist a big-eyed kid who looks up to him and says, "When I grow up, I want to be a cop just like you."

Any word can be good or bad, depending on the way it is said. People can be policed, but nobody can police a language.

The irony of J. Edgar Hoover's campaign is that his own splendid career has done much to add a new luster of affectionate respect to that down-to-earth word cop. He might as well face the fact now that if he ever steps down from his present high post, newspapers will bloom with 1,000 editorials headed:

"An honest cop retires."

End adv for PMS Mond. Jan. 16.

First Big Battle On Gas Is Underway In Senate Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first major legislative battle of the Senate's present session gets underway today on a House-passed bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation.

The big argument is over whether the measure would jump the price paid by gas consumers. Opponents of the bill say it would; supporters say it wouldn't.

Both Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California are numbered among the bill's supporters and they predicted its enactment.

But Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), floor manager of the measure, said the senators appeared to be so closely divided that the fight "could be won or lost" in the floor debate. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), a leader of the opposition, said the lineup seemed to be "about even."

The House passed the measure last year by a narrow 209 - 203 margin.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said yesterday the gas producers are spending "millions of dollars" lobbying for the measure, but Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), debating the issue with him on a CBS radio show, called that an "unworthy assertion."

Dairy Group Holds Meeting At Concordia

The third annual meeting of District No. 4 of the American Dairy Association of Missouri was held at the V. F. W. Hall in Concordia Jan. 12, when the following dairymen were elected to the Board of Directors for 1956: Frank Curtis, Odessa; Glen Kircher, Harrisonville; Frank Robey, Holden for three-year terms; Frank Greene, Jr., Lee's Summit and Harold Purvis, Pleasant Hill for two-year terms; Joseph B. Davis, Napton and Lee Dow, Sedalia, for one-year terms. These directors will be delegates to the annual state meeting in Columbia Feb. 29.

Immediately after the meeting the board of directors met and re-elected Curtis as president, Kircher, vice president, and Greene, secretary-treasurer. Frank Curtis was nominated to fill the unexpired term of Clarence Frerking on the state board. The alternate delegates to the state annual meeting are: Clarence Frerking, Concordia; George Ziefle, Lee's Summit; Carl Riekhof, Mayview; Frank Schwartz, Lawson; Amos Finkeldie, Blackburn; Boone Ingles, Pleasant Hill; and Dr. J. L. Jones, Blackburn.

A report on dairy activities at the local level was given by the district president, Frank Curtis. His report included activities in connection with June Dairy Month, the special milk program in local schools, and meetings of the board of directors.

In a report on the special milk program in Missouri schools, O. E. Allen said most large schools of the state are now participating and that the program has increased considerably in the past year. He is dairy marketing specialist of the University of Missouri extension dept.

Representing national headquarters of the American Dairy Association, Myron Clark of the membership department, Chicago, said that the dairy industry is the only segment of agriculture which showed an increase in price over last year. For 100 pounds of fluid milk the national average price was up 16 cents and for manufactured milk it was up 10 cents.

Paul Porter, director of dairy division, State Department of Agriculture, reported on June Dairy Month activities. He said there were 114 county chairmen, most of whom reported highly favorable participation in the month-long event. He represented Commissioner of Agriculture, L. C. Carpenter, who served as JDM state chairman this past year.

Steve H. Rogers of Lawson, president of the ADA of Missouri, spoke briefly.

Tax Facts No. 1—Here Is How You Can Save Money on Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Missouri Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The eve of April 16 will see a mad scramble in many households to put together the necessary facts and figures for the federal income tax returns due on that date. (April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, making April 16 the deadline.)

The last minute rush produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers.

Most of the errors are very simple. For example, about one million returns are filed every year with signatures missing. (This includes joint returns with only one signature and individual returns with no signature at all.) Little slips in arithmetic last year resulted in overpayments by taxpayers of $18,000,000. Taxpayers got back these overpayments eventually, after the government discovered the mistakes, but the taxpayer cannot rely on the government to save him from all his errors.

The mistakes of arithmetic favoring the taxpayer were even larger — perhaps not entirely by coincidence. All returns are checked, and when an underpayment is discovered the government not only collects the difference, but also charges interest.

Opportunities Overlooked

Apart from obvious mistakes, many taxpayers overlook opportunities to claim exemptions and deductions, and other ways to reduce their tax.

In order to help you avoid such pitfalls, The Democrat-Capitol is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles — if you save them and use them along with the official instructions that come with your tax forms — may save you money.

Your first step is to consider whether you should file at all, and then what kind of a return to file.

For income tax purposes you are not required to file a return if your gross income in 1955 was less than $600, or if you are 65 or older and had less than $1,200 gross income. But if you had income from self-employment of $400 or more, the return must be filed for social security tax purposes.

Don't forget that tax on salary or wages may have been withheld during the year by your employer, even if your income was less than $600, and the only way to get it back is to file a tax return.

Advantage of Joint Returns
A common mistake is the filing of a separate return by a wife who has a small income. If the wife files a separate return, she is not permitted to file another return jointly with her husband, nor is her husband allowed to

Two Outstanding Artists Entertain Steele Music Club

The musical season of the Helen G. Steele Music Club was highlighted Wednesday afternoon when two outstanding artists, Val Patacchi, bass-baritone and Herbert Melnick, pianist, captured the ears of their listeners at Heard Memorial Club House. Both are from the faculty of Stephens College, Columbia.

Patacchi is noted for his portrayals of a variety of roles in opera. He was master of the song literature from Mozart and Strauss to Ravel and Debussy. He not only sang brilliantly but had acting ability to match. This was displayed in his spiritual group when he electrified his audience with his rendition of "Hangman, Hangman." For his encores Patacchi sang "Quando no Paggio" and "When I Was a Page" from "Falstaff" by Verdi.

Fine musicianship was displayed by Melnick in his group of numbers. His excellent technique, delicate phrasing, contrast in tone and moods delighted his listeners. The well-known "Fantasie Impromptu" by Chopin was beautifully played. His performance of Chopin's difficult "Nocturne in E minor" was outstanding. "Taran-telle" by Liszt was played with the required style and brilliance and was well-received by the audience.

Mrs. Edwin Forrest Yancey presided at the meeting with Mrs. P. W. Henry acting as chairman of the day.

A memorial service for Mrs. Arthur Klang was given by Mrs. George Lovercamp with Mrs. Paul Berthouex as accompanist.

Excelsior Springs Will Hold Bakers Meeting

Excelsior Springs will be host to a two-state bakers' meeting on Jan. 24, 25 and 26.

The Kansas and Missouri Bakers Associations will open their meeting at the Elms Hotel in Excelsior at 10 a.m. Jan. 25. Discussion of several phases of bakery packaging is on the program for the morning. A luncheon in the main dining room is on the schedule for 12:00 noon.

Events for the afternoon consist of a meeting for wholesale bakers in the main ballroom of the hotel and a meeting for retail bakers in clubroom.

The two-state meeting will wind up the day with a banquet and dancing in the main ballroom.

claim an exemption for the wife on his separate return.

Most married couples will save money by filing a joint return, as this "splits" their income to put them in the same bracket as though each of them had received half the total income.

There are unusual cases, however, such as those involving capital losses, in which separate returns might result in a saving. If this is a possibility, it is best to figure both jointly and separately before deciding which way to file.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service which urges you to consult a properly qualified adviser if you need outside assistance.

This Missouri Governor Made An Unique Record in Office

He served Missouri as congressman, governor, and United States senator, an honor accorded to no other Missourian. Do you know his name?

Missouri Congressman, Governor, and U. S. Senator

- 1. Was he a native Missourian?
- A. No, he was born May 7, 1848, in Madison County, Kentucky. At the age of fifteen he came to Columbia, Mo., attended the University of Missouri, and was admitted to the bar in Columbia in 1869.

2. How did he begin his political career?

A. Two years later he settled in Nevada, Mo., and served as prosecuting attorney of Vernon County from 1872 to 1874. He was several times a delegate to the Democratic state conventions in the 1870's and in 1876 was a presidential elector on the Tilden ticket.

Nominated for Congress in 1884, he won election for three successive terms. In Congress he advocated low protective tariff and free coinage of silver, and supported the right of labor to organize. He worked successfully for the repeal of laws which permitted corporations and speculators to obtain public lands unfairly and proposed legislation to secure forfeiture of railroad land grants where there had been failure to comply with terms of the grant.

- 3. What were his achievements as governor of Missouri?
- A. During his term as governor, 1893-1897, the financial panic of

Support Needed

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—A story in the Miami News-Record quoted State Rep. J. R. Hall Jr. as saying he pledged his full support to the Inter-Tribal Indian Council's pageant, scheduled here in 1937.

After the paper came out, a local Indian—well fortified with firewater—came to Hall's office. Apparently on the verge of collapse, he declared:

"I read in the paper where you're going to support the Indians, and you can start right now—with me."

1893, the railway union strike, the miners' strike, and widespread unemployment and national depression created great unrest. But there were no outbreaks of rioting in Missouri and he was able to handle the situation without resort to military force.

In spite of a decrease in the general revenue resulting from a lowering of the tax rate under a constitutional provision, he was able to leave a solvent treasury and unimpaired credit for the next administration.

- 4. What did he do after he had served as governor?
- A. He practiced law in St. Louis and was member of the Democratic national committee from 1896 to 1904 and its vice-chairman from 1900 to 1906.

5. What was his later public service?

A. He served as United States senator from March, 1903, until his death April 14, 1918. In the Senate he advocated penalties for campaign contributions by corporation, voted for the railroad rate regulation laws of 1906, filibustered against the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill permitting emergency bank note issues, and opposed the Payne-Aldrich high tariff bill.

During President Wilson's administration he became the ranking member of the Senate Finance Committee and chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. In the latter position he was instrumental in the ratification of the Bryan peace and arbitration treaties and opposed the arming of the American merchant ships. He also opposed America's entrance into World War I and refused to take charge of the war resolution even though his stand would mean his political death. But when war was declared he actively supported all the measures proposed to make it a success.

He was an able speaker and his withering sarcasm, lively wit, calm delivery, and convincing sincerity made him outstanding as an advocate or opponent in the United States Senate.

6. How has Missouri honored his memory?

A. A life-size bronze statue, erected by the State, was dedicated to his memory on the courthouse lawn at Nevada on Oct. 11, 1935.

- 7. What was his name?
- A. William Joel Stone.

Sports Car Talk

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Members of the Baltimore Local of the Motor Sports Car Assn., like other small car enthusiasts, speak a special jargon that is difficult for the average citizen to understand.

A hood is a bonnet, a get-together is a rally, and words like split the air.

For the uninitiated, however, some of the Baltimore speedsters have offered a few handy translations: Here are a few:

R.P.M.—Number of repairs per month necessary.

M.P.H.—Monthly payments will be heavy.

B.H.P.—Basis for the high price of sports cars.

F.O.B.—Prices given in French or British currency.

Regional Library Notes—

Benjamin Franklin's Story Is Good Reading for Anyone

Benjamin Franklin, America's first world citizen, was born 250 years ago Jan. 17. One of 17 children, life was frugal and the Quaker family were honest and God fearing. Benjamin learned printing through a five year apprenticeship to his older brother. His other education was self taught through the reading of books while he ate and slept in the print shop.

All this is common knowledge as is the fact that Benjamin Franklin ran off from Boston to Philadelphia where he became the leading printer and one of Philadelphia's leading citizens.

The Boonslick Regional Library recommends that all persons who have not read Franklin's "Autobiography" during their adult years do so now. The wit, humor and good common sense of the book, the description of early days in the colonies in England and France make rewarding reading. Most of all, the making of this United States from the days of the colonies to the adoption of our constitution will be enjoyed by most people who are concerned about our nation today.

The beginning of the Pennsylvania University came from the school Franklin started. He said that he who teaches himself often has a fool for a master. The night watch he started was the beginning of the Philadelphia police system. He started a library, a hospital for the poor, a volunteer fire department. His inventive genius made life easier for himself and others. His greatest contribution to the United States is probably his aid in establishing our government on a firm basis. "Poor Richard's Almanac," his "Autobiography" and biographies of Benjamin Franklin are still worth 250 years after the birth of Benjamin Franklin.

Dresden 4-H Club Has Been Reorganized

The Dresden 4-H Club reorganized Wednesday, Jan. 4, at the Dresden Community Center with assistant county agent presiding. The following officers were elected for the club year: President, Dorothy Richey; vice-president, Carolyn Ditzfield; secretary-treasurer, Sandra Whitfield; song leader, Donnie Woodward; game leaders, Norma Ditzfield and Bobby Dale Ferguson; reporter, Mary Elizabeth Faris; and Junior Council member, Larry Ferguson.

The 4-H club voted to carry the following projects for the coming year: gardening, food preparation, and clothing. Leaders were selected for each project. Mrs. D. E. Edwards was chosen as community leader with Mrs. C. E. Ferguson as assistant community leader. Courtesy was chosen as the club activity.

The next club meeting will be held Feb. 1 at the Dresden Community Hall.

R. L. Viebrock Is Honored On His Birthday

By Mrs. Herschel Small

STOVER—A contributed dinner was enjoyed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Viebrock and family Jan. 6, honoring the birthday of R. L. Viebrock. All of his children were present.

Mrs. Gertrude Elkins and Pat spent Friday night with her father, R. A. Moseby, Sedalia. She also attended the joint installation of the Rebekah and Odd Fellow Lodges.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Scrivner spent several days last week with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Junod and family, Kansas City.

Mrs. J. L. Stevenson attended the Missouri Music Educators State convention in Warrensburg Jan. 5. That evening, J. L. Stevenson, Mrs. Cora Small and Mrs. Herschel Small attended the musical program presented by the Central Missouri State College Division of Music.

Mrs. Gertrude Elkins and Pat, accompanied by Mrs. Mollie Vickery, went to Kansas City Jan. 8, and were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Hagenah. Mrs. Vickery remained in the city for the weekend in Jerseyville, Ill., with the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Breed and family, who are the parents of a new baby daughter.

Mrs. Breed is the daughter of Mrs. Maude Cooper and a sister of Kenneth Cooper.

Bloody Repairs

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The case of the damaged police car remained unofficial to the end. Two detectives, in it when it scraped the entrance to a garage, failed to make a report.

Police Chief A. E. Jansen said they could pay for the damage themselves.

They found, in shopping around at garages, that repairs would cost about $100. One garageman, however, remarked that the detectives looked healthy and said his sick sister needed blood for transfusions. The deal was made, unofficially—blood for repairs.

Cash for fuel, repairs and new-born heirs

Here's the kind of event that always seems to take a little more money than you have on hand... when borrowing seems both a necessary and sensible solution. And that's just the time to take your problems to the leader in the consumer finance field, to ask the help of the best trained staff anywhere.

Nearly two million men and women each year find that HFC makes a practice of getting the money into your hands just as quickly as possible. If you have a steady income and can make regular monthly payments, you meet the principal requirement for borrowing at HFC. The sample chart below shows loan amounts, and a selection of repayment plans.

There's an HFC office near you. Why not phone or drop by today!

Cash You Get	MONTHLY PAYMENT PLANS

Early America Humanitarian Film Subject

Jonathan Chapman, early American humanitarian, better known as Johnny Appleseed, is the subject of an 18-minute color film biography currently available at the Sedalia Public Library.

James Fenimore Cooper, pioneer novelist, is portrayed in a 20-minute black and white film. Another view of early American life is presented in "Mount Vernon," a 22-minute film showing the home of George Washington as it might have appeared in 1783, upon his return as commander-in-chief of the American armies.

These and the following titles in the present selection may be borrowed free of charge by community groups:

"Italy," 17 min. Story of modern Italy and conditions at the end of the war.

"Picture in Your Mind," 16 min. color. Roots of prejudice are presented through use of symbols by Philip Stapp.

"Prairie Chicken in Missouri," 12 min. color. Depicts an important phase of our wildlife scene.

"Song of the Feathered Serpent," 22 min. color. A dramatic documentary on the spirit of Mexican Indian culture from ancient to present times.

"Speech," 11 min. Explains what to do about stage fright.

"Three Fox Fables," 10 min. Portrays three of Aesop's fables. "Trees for Tomorrow," 18 min. Forest conservation, including spotting and controlling fire.

"Are You Ready for Marriage," 15 min. A counselor explains to a couple what is necessary for a successful marriage.

"Kitchen Come True," 19 min. An old fashioned farm kitchen is converted into a modern and convenient room.

Library staff members will screen several of the above movies at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. The public is invited to attend this preview.

If there is a slight accidental cigarette burn in your best carpet, clip the blackened end of the tufts.

Missionary League Will Conduct Two-Day Leadership Training

The Western District Lutheran Women's Missionary League will conduct a leadership training institution at St. Paul's Church, Jan. 16 and 17. There are six such institutions being conducted in the district at this time. Speakers will be Professor Herbert Hosenstein, Professor George Hoyer, and the Rev. Elmer Kettner, all of St. Louis. The institution is for inspirational guidance for the LWML leaders, that they may be more efficient and consecrated leaders. There will be about 100 ladies attending.
